The Project will be structured in the format of Phase I of the two-phased intervention with the total duration of approximately six years. Consecutive Phase II is already envisioned at this stage. Under Outcome 1 the activities will aim at mainstreaming gender considerations into policy-making, as well as institutionalizing budgeting, planning, programming, and monitoring processes, hence establishing the enabling environment for women farmers, women-led agri-cooperatives, cooperatives, associations, etc. Under Outcome 2 an integrated approach to addressing the problem of rural women's limited access to economic opportunities taking into consideration strengthening resilience to climate change risks is being developed both from the supply and demand sides. From the supply side work will be done to establish access to finance mechanisms which are accessible to the primary beneficiaries through the public sector grants and mobilized private sector finance. From the demand side the main objective is to capacitate women beneficiaries through establishing networking platforms and providing all-encompassing training in business and farm management, digitalization and other skills with the use of FAO's proprietary Farmer Field Schools (FFS).	2022-05-01	2022-12-31	Pipeline	Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations	BH Ministry of Foreign Trade and Economic Relations; FBH Ministry of Agriculture, Water Management and Forestry; RS Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Water Management	"2.3 By 2030, double the agricultural productivity and incomes of small-scale food producers, in particular women, indigenous peoples, family farmers, pastoralists and fishers, including through secure and equal access to land, other productive resources and inputs, knowledge, financial services, markets and opportunities for value addition and nonfarm employment."
